DuPont Teijin Films Receives Queen's Award for Enterprise: Innovation 2008

Lord Crathorne, Lord Lieutenant of North Yorkshire and The Queen's representative in the area, visited DuPont Teijin Films Global Technology Centre at Wilton Centre earlier this month to officially present the company with The Queen's Award for Enterprise: Innovation 2008. DuPont Teijin Films won Britain's most coveted commercial award earlier in the year. The Award is for their range of Lightblocking Melinex® Polyester Films for Exhibition Pop-up, Point of Sale and Banner Stands.

John Miller, European President received the Award on behalf of DuPont Teijin Films at the company's special Event attended by customers and guests including the Mayor & Deputy Mayoress of Redcar & Cleveland

In his acceptance speech, John Miller commented, "It's a great honour to win such an award, we see Innovation, along with service, as a way to differentiate ourselves from our competition and in turn help our customers win in their chosen market place. Our Light blocking films are a perfect example of this. Our business model has innovation at its core and the activities at Wilton, together with those of our technical and manufacturing people at our plants in Luxembourg and Dumfries who bring these new products to life, are key to our future. We are committed to working in many different industries, with technologists around the world to help them design the products of the future. We are proud of our awards and of our heritage and look forward to being recognised again for our innovation excellence".
